

Step 2: Classify the variables

- Requirements – variables that have prescribed values that will not change
- Geometry – variables that define the dimensions of the component and depend implicitly upon the material properties
- Material Properties – variables used to define the material in terms of physical behavior, mechanical behavior, and cost